Course News

Attendees were updated on a meeting of selected course members along with Jack Graham, Creed, and Staff. The meeting was held February 16th with members from the course, MGA, and LGA. The purpose of the meeting was to express concerns about the course condition and operating elements. The members of this committee met on several occasions to prepare a professional list of concerns with a cooperative approach to seek solutions and continuous improvements to the course and it's provided services. The top ten issues presented at this meeting were:

1. Irrigation system repairs for the back 9
2. Greens, Tee Boxes, and general course conditions
3. Replacement of pins and Tee Markers, along with frequent re-location of these items
4. Restrooms condition in the clubhouse and on the course
5. Maintenance
6. Creating and Adopt-A-Hole and Course Marshall Programs – In full operation
7. Leadership, Staff Training, Customer Service, and Communication Programs – ongoing process
8. Parking lot and cart path repairs
9. Income improvement ideas and membership improvement ideas
10. Misc. including flag pole repair, flags replaced, score card update, Course rules posted on door

After much discussion about what is happening with the golf course, again JW Smith spoke up and explained what has already been done and what the MGA can expect in the future.

Jack Graham presented a list of concerns that the group acknowledged. We collectively agreed to meet on an ongoing basis to improve these items and build a stronger relationship between the course and its members. The next meeting for the group will be March 26th to solidify action plans. The plans will be presented at the next MGA meeting.

Scott Greene made a motion to adjourn the meeting, seconded by Bruce Robinson, and the meeting was adjourned at that time.
